

Dehydrating Apples

Instructions

Ingredients

- Fresh apples (any variety)
- Optional: lemon juice
- Optional: cinnamon

Steps

1. Wash apples well. Core if you like. Slice evenly for consistent drying.
2. If desired, toss slices lightly with lemon juice to prevent browning.
3. Arrange apple slices in a single layer on dehydrator trays, avoiding overlap.
4. Dehydrate at 135°F for 6–10 hours, until apples are leathery but still flexible.
5. Let slices cool completely, then check for any remaining moisture.
6. Store in airtight jars or containers in a cool, dark place.

Notes

Apples can be dried soft or crisp — both keep well. A light sprinkle of cinnamon before drying is nice but optional. If unsure, dry a little longer rather than less.
